What is this thing called love that you speak? Cause we're out of it. We're out of it. We built this city, now we tear it to the ground. This fight is over, hear the bell ringing out, it's the end of the final round. You knock me down, Cut me with a stare, You patch me up, Now it's my turn. What is this thing called love that you speak?

This funny thing called pain, just who can solve its mystery?" Pain, like love, is all consuming: when you have it, not much else matters, and there is nothing you can do about it. Unlike love, however, we are actually beginning to tease apart the mystery of pain. The substantial progress made over the last decade in revealing the genes, molecules, cells, and circuits that determine the ...
